Explanation of Rating and Scoring

The Final Quality Rating and Composite Effectiveness Score are both determined through a three part evaluation system.

- ✓ The academic growth of students as they move from one year of education to the next makes up the 20% of the Final Quality Rating depending upon the grade level of the student.
- ✓ The achievement of students makes up an additional 20% of the rating score again depending upon the grade level of the student.
- ✓ The final 60% of the rating and score is developed through the use of a NYSED approved evaluation rubric.

The rubric is administered through observations (both long and short in length) and other demonstrations of the academic progress of students as defined by law.

Effective	Overall performance and results meet standards	75-90
